Intrinsic Research Systems Inc. Announces Latest Major Product Upgrade

Version 5.1 Now Available

April 15, New York, NY – Intrinsic Research Systems, Inc., a Mergent company, announced today the release of its latest major product upgrade, Version 5.1, which brings many valuable system enhancements throughout the platform.

Significant upgrades include the Earnings Monitor Graphics which provides surprise charts across index members, watch lists, portfolios and sectors. Intrinsic users now have access to New Portfolio Analysis Capabilities allowing streamlined access to portfolio news, quotes, sector reports, calendar and earnings monitoring and allows the user to add their commentary to portfolio charts. Additionally, Local Portfolio Import Enhancements combine accounts, add/exclude holdings and view aggregates “on-the-fly” for graphical analysis of current holdings.

Additional enhancements highlighting Version 5.1 include Real Time Quote & News integration for subscribers of Quotemedia’s Quotestream desktop quote and news platform. User Defined Custom Data Panels allow you to define and save your own equity data panels using up to 40 data elements. Furthermore Intrinsic Research Version 5.1, Stock Report Designer Additions covers estimate revision, surprise, institutional holder and short interest. Data View permits the user to define and save time series data views just like the charts for easy export to Microsoft® Excel.
